

Will You please lead me

When I look upon the world
Lord it looks like You have long abandoned us
Cause the ruler of our lands
Is a treacherous and cruel man

But it's still our destiny
To fulfil our role in all your wondrous plans
'Till that time we must endure
All the mocking of Your name, oh Lord

*But we still hold on to what is written Lord
That your promises are ironclad
'Till You will show a signal in the sky
That will tell all the world: our God's alive*

*But we still hold on to what is written Lord
You will free your people from their chains
You'll show the world You are their Conqueror
And we know that will never change*

I'll persist and mind myself
Keep your promises alive in my own heart
Even though our lives are tough
In the chosen land, I'll do my part

Lord I beg You, will You please lead me
Lord I beg You, will You set us free!
